Bio of Wing Thye WOO (胡永泰), wtwoo@ucdavis.edu / wtwoo@sunway.edu.my

Wing Thye Woo is currently studying the design of efficient, equitable pathways to achieving the Sustainable Development Goals with projects on Green Finance, Middle Income Trap, and Global Economic Architecture for the Multi-Polar World. He is an expert on the East Asian economies, particularly, China, Indonesia and Malaysia.

Wing Woo is Research Professor at Sunway University in Kuala Lumpur where he heads the Jeffrey Cheah Institute on Southeast Asia and Jeffrey Sachs Center on Sustainable Development (jci.edu.my and <https://jeffreysachs.center>) and Vice-President for Asia at the United Nations Sustainable Development Solutions Network (SDSN) in New York City (www.unsdsn.org). Wing is also Chang Jiang Professor at Fudan University in Shanghai, Distinguished Fellow at Penang Institute in George Town, Thousand Talent Scholar at the Institute of Population and Labour Economics of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences in Beijing; and Distinguished Professor Emeritus at University of California Davis, which graciously privileged him to serve in 1985-2020.

Wing Woo has advised several governments and international organizations. In early 1990s, he advised several centrally-planned economies on their transition strategies to market economy (Economies in Transition: Comparing Asia and Europe, MIT Press, 1997); and Indonesia on growth strategies and exchange rate management (Macroeconomic Crisis and Long-Term Growth: The Case of Indonesia, 1965-1990, World Bank Press, 1994). He advised China's Ministry of Finance on the comprehensive tax and exchange rate reforms implemented in January 1994 (Fiscal Management and Economic Reform in the People's Republic of China, Oxford University Press, 1995), and the U.S. Treasury in 1997-98 on the Asian Financial Crisis (The Asian Financial Crisis: Lessons for a Resilient Asia, MIT Press, 2000). From 2002-2005, Wing was the Special Advisor for East Asian Economies in the Millennium Project of the United Nations; in July 2005, he was appointed to the International Advisory Panel to Prime Minister Abdullah Badawi of Malaysia; and in 2008, he was economic advisor to Chief Minister Lim Guan Eng of Penang State. From 2009-2015, Wing was the Convener of "The Shadow G-20 Workshop" co-sponsored by the Asian Development Bank and Earth Institute at Columbia University; and selected proceedings of these workshops will be published as A New Global Financial Architecture for a Multi-Polar World, MIT Press (forthcoming). He was a coordinator of the ADB Institute project, Financing Green Development, 2017-2019, and the outcome is Handbook of Green Finance: Energy Security and Sustainable Development, Tokyo: Springer, 2019.

Wing Woo has been the convener of the Asian Economic Panel (AEP) since 2001, a forum of specialists on Asian economies which meets tri-annually and publishes the Asian Economic Papers, MIT Press (of which Wing is the Editor-in-Chief). He is also Editor of Journal of Chinese Economic and Business Studies, and Associate Editor of Economic Change and Restructuring and Journal of Asian Economics. He was President of the Chinese Economists Association of North America (CEANA) in 2002, and President of the Chinese Economists Society (CEA) in 2016.

University of California Davis awarded Wing its Distinguished Scholarly Public Service Award in 2004 and appointed him Distinguished Professor in 2019; the Ministry of Education of China appointed him Chang Jiang Professor in 2006; the Governor of Penang conferred on him the title Dato in 2009; and the Thousand Talents Program of China appointed him a National Distinguished Expert in 2016. In 2020, The University of Cambodia awarded him an Honorary Doctorate in Sustainable Development, and conferred on him Honorary Membership of the Board to Trustees.

Wing was born in 1954 in George Town, Penang, Malaysia, and was active in the 2nd Georgetown (S) Senior Scout Troop out of Methodist Boys School. He graduated from Swarthmore College in 1976 with a B.A. (High Honors) in Economics, and a B.S. in Engineering; and received an M.A. in Economics from Yale in 1978, and an M.A. and a Ph.D. in Economics from Harvard in 1982.
